the apostles creed and the nicene creed are both considered to be the official statement of faith of the catholic church, the apostles creed is a document that focuses on the life of the church and the key beliefs that are held by the church, the nicene creed, as mentioned above, is a statement of faith that was accepted at the first council of nicaea in ad 325, the nicene creed is important because it is the first creed written down and accepted as official church doctrine, the catechism of the catholic church is a concise explanation of catholic beliefs. the catechism includes quotations from many papal encyclicals, church council documents, and the scriptures. it refers to these as reference points for catholic teachings. although it is important, the catechism is not considered a sacred text like the bible. in fact, the catechism we have now is fairly recent, although it describes ancient beliefs. the catechism helps to consolidate all of the churchs teachings into a handy reference, as covid-19 continues to wreak havoc in countries decimating peoples livelihoods, and leaving health systems struggling to provide healthcare and vaccines for the entire population - governments and donors should look to the church as a partner. the essential church networks, trusted and rooted in local communities, can reach the most vulnerable people and remote places where governments often struggle to reach. dr congo is among several countries where the catholic church is the main provider of community health services, particularly in more remote areas. hello my name is flemming. i am a lutheran christian. i have been a christian for over thirty years. i have been in various different denominations. i believe the doctrines and teachings of the catholic church to be true. i have a choice to go to a catholic high school. i have chosen to go to a catholic high school because i believe that it will be the best place for me to grow spiritually. i am now deciding between two different high schools. one high school is a public high school. the other is a catholic high school. which one is best for me to attend? 5ec8ef588b
